The United States Embassy in Lisbon and the Consulate in Ponta Delgada provide Consular Services for Portugal. Each of the two districts maintains its own list of lawyers, and copies of the lists are available, free of charge, upon request. The Lisbon consular district, with a population of almost 10 million inhabitants, comprises all of continental Portugal and the Islands of Madeira and Porto Santo.

Although these attorneys have been chosen with care and enjoy good reputations, the Embassy does not endorse any particular attorney and cannot be held responsible for their ability or integrity. Complaints should initially be addressed to the ORDEM DOS ADVOGADOS (Bar Association) in the districts involved (Lisbon, Faro, Évora, Porto, Madeira). If you wish, you may send a copy of the complaint to the Embassy Also, the Embassy cannot accept financial responsibility for any citizen. The client must discuss all fees in advance, as well as the method of payment, before hiring an attorney.

The names are arranged alphabetically within four mains regions: Lisbon, Algarve, Porto, Madeira. The order in which they appear has no other significance.

Please note that addresses and phone numbers are subject to change. Therefore, readers should consider this list as an information guide, and when in doubt, should consult the appropriate telephone directory.

The Embassy reserves the right to add, restrict or amend this list as necessary.
